To the Holders of
MILITARY LAND WARRANTS.
THE Subſcriber having lately returned from viewing the land, ſurveyed and appropriated to ſatisfy the land warrants, iſſued by the ſecretary at war, to the officers and ſoldiers of the late continental army; and having made arrangements with Mr. James Johnſon, of Cheſter county, Pennſylvania, who he left on the land, and who with the aſſiſtance of an intelligent inhabitant of that county, will ſpend five months in exploring the different ſections. He will take regular notes, deſcriptive of the ſoil, ſituation, and natural advantages attached to each ſection in the whole ſurvey—which notes will be placed in the hands of the ſubſcriber previous to the period for locating, thereby enabling him to make the moſt advantageous locations the priority will admit.

He offers his ſervice to the holders of land warrants of the above deſcription, throughout the United States, to receive their warrants, claſe them, (as no leſs quantity than 4000 acres will be regiſterd at the office of the treaſury) have them regiſtered agreeable to law, and attend to make the location at the the time appointed in February next.

Foreign Intelligence.

BOMBAY, June 8.

Intelligence had reached Mocha from various quarters, of a party of French from Suez having made an unsuccessful attack on Cosir, a sea port of Upper Egypt, in a dow and three or four smaller boats, wherein the dow was blown up, on which the others retired. This was confirmed beyond doubt by the declaration of a French seaman who had reached Judda, and was one of the only two survivors of the detachment which was on board the dow that was blown up: he is said to have reported that the party consisted of 120 soldiers and 80 sailors, embarked in a dow and 3 boats under the command of a general of brigade, about the beginning of February last; that on entering the harbour, several dows began to fire upon them, and that when the dow, in which this informant and the general were, came nearly abreast of the Arabs, three small guns were discharged from her at them; that this firing blew up some ammunition on deck, which communicated to the powder below, and the vessel blew up. This man adds, that their consorts immediately made the best of their way out of the harbour, without making any effort to save the poor wretches who were swimming about, whom the inhabitants of Cosir came out in boats and put to death without mercy. The informant and four others, swam after the other three boats with a view to attract their notice but in vain? they then made towards the shore, and reached it during the night, from whence they took refuge in the mountains, where after wandering three days without any sustenance, they fell in with some Arabs, to whom they made signs that they wanted water; that the Arabs brought them three small pots, but transfixed three of his companions with their spears while in the act of drinking; the Arabs spared the lives of the informant and another who were carried to Cosir, from thence to Yambo, where his companion was detained and he was sent to Judda. This man would not allow that the French had lost any men in action with the Mamalucs, but acknowledged that their loss by sickness and assassination was computed at 5000 men. He further stated, that the French at Suez were 400 soldiers and sailors previous to the embarkation, of which he made a part, and 50 artificers, and that when he and his companions left it, there only remained one dow belonging to the Arabs and eleven or twelve boats such as are used in loading and unloading vessels. The French at Suez had expected a visit from the English ships in the Red Sea, and had a boat stationed a considerable way down the Gulph to give notice of their approach, when it was the intention of the French to leave Suez. From the circumstances of this man's report it would appear that this attack on Cosir is what we had, on less accurate information, stated to have taken place at the Island of Shadwan.

June 29.

Letters add, that Lieutenant Col. Wiseman with a brigade of Seapoys, was preparing to march for the Canary country, to take possession of Deelah, Mangalore, and a few other posts, before the rains set in violently; and that General Hartley was expected to move with the rest of the army to take complete possession as soon as the season would admit. It was reported, that the inhabitants of that part of the country had expressed a desire to be under the protection of the English government, and they were ready to receive our troops and deliver up the country to them.

On the 17th of May, the late Sultan's horses, elephants and camels, were delivered over in Purnea's tent, to Lieutenant Cols. Close and Dallas, and Captains Macaulay and Montgomery, the stable horsemen attending their new masters with all submission and obedience. Three thousand one hundred and twenty horses were reckoned on this occasion, 99 elephants and 175 camels, the late Sultan's private property; a body of Jaghire horse, estimated at twelve thousand, were ordered to their respective villages, where they remained peaceable subjects by the latest accounts, and in all probability will continue so, excepting they are wanted for offensive operations by our government.

Colonel Read, of the Madras establishment, was employed about the middle and towards the latter end of May, putting garrisons into Hooliadroog, Ootradroog, Sawandroog and Schwagunga; these were garrisoned when our present accounts left Sawandroog on the 23d ult. On the 24th a party was to be sent to Bangalore, and it was expected the Colonel would afterwards move to Ooscottach and Nundedroog, from thence to Sera, and probably to Chittledroog, with the same view.

VICTORY OF THE ARCHDUKE,

And the taking of MANHEIM.

FRANCKFORT, Sept. 21.

The Archduke Charles, has, as I have mentioned to you before now, through his speedily marching towards Philipsburg, relieved that fortress from the bombardment of the French, and forced them to retire towards Manheim. This day I have to communicate to you, the important intelligence that the Duke has completely beaten the enemy, near Neckerau, and Manheim, drove him out of all his strong holds, and took the city of Manheim, 1800 Frenchmen, among whom are the generals De la Mason and Le Solle, and 61 officers are made prisoners, 2 standards, 18 cannon, 3 howitzers, 13 ammunition carts, and 7 waggons loaded with balls fell into his hands. The following is an extract of the Duke's letter, dated the 18th, which he transmitted from head quarters at Schwetzingen, respecting this glorious affair.

"After raising the siege of Philipsburg, the bombardment of which had lasted for six days, the greatest part of the hostile troops drew across the Rhine, and took a position on the left bank from Ogersheim towards Wurms. The division Le Roche garrisoned the fortress of Manheim, and the entrenchments which were erected during summer at Neckerau: the fortress of Manheim was not in the least demolished as has been announced in the public prints, the works were partly as before, and partly so improved, that they appeared perfectly secure against any Coup de Main; the village Neckerau, which is totally surrounded by an unaccessable broad and swampy ditch, and seems to form an Island, has for its access two bridges which are guarded by formidable entrenchments and batteries, this adds much to the strength, with which nature has favored this island.

"By the position and operations of the enemy, I was fully convinced, that he meant to defend to the uttermost the fortress of Manheim, and its adjacent entrenchments, he was busied unintermittingly day and night to extend his batteries. Further I received intelligence from unquestionable authority that the Directory had transmitted to Gen. Muller extraordinary instructions to maintain, and not to relinquish Manheim at any rate, in consequence of which preparations were made, to move the cannon from the left Rhetauser to Manheim.

"This induced me to accelerate the premeditated attack, the enemy made the most resolute and obstinate resistance at Neckerau and seemed to risque all for the maintenance of that fortified place, his fire was excessive heavy and without intermission, yet notwithstanding all this, an assault was made by our troops upon the bridges leading to Neckerau, which were carried, with a determination that seemed to pervade all ranks alike, the enemy entirely dislodged out of his entrenchments and in this manner not only the village of Neckerau but the whole fortified Isle became ours.

"After this, without loss of time, Holzhorf, a place situated on the river Rhine, between Manheim and Neckerau equally as strong and as well fortified as the former, whs attacked by our troops, here also the enemy made the same resistance as at Neckerau but this fortress being assaulted with the same spirit of determination it was soon carried, the garrison was partly sabred down, and partly with their commanding general made prisoners.

"This being done we erected a battery in the greatest hurry near Holzhose, against the bridge across the Rhine, and at the same time, at which we opened our batteries, against the bridge, an attack was also made upon the entrenchments, which the enemy had erected during the preceding summer season, along the whole front of the fortress; these two were carried, and so quickly was the flying enemy pursued, that our troops along with those of the enemy pressed into the city of Manheim as the draw bridges therefore could not be shut, and such was the confusion and panic of the garrison, that all those who had not previously fled to the left bank of the Rhine became our prisoners.

"The number of prisoners taken on this occasion, consists of 1800 men, among them are the Brig-de Generals De la Mason and Le Solle with 61 staff and other officers.

"We took 2 standards 18 cannon 3 howitzers 13 ammunition waggons 7 carriages loaded with balls, many granades balls and other warlike implements, besides several hundred cwt. powder."

ARCHDUKE CHARLES, F. M.

ITALY, September 11.

Prince Suwarrow was to move on the 8th inst. with all the Russian troops under his command from Asti to Switzerland; his route will be over the Navaro, Bellinzone and Gothardsberg: the baggage and artillery will pass through Tirol and part of Germany. This day being the 11th, the Citadel of Tortona will be delivered to the Imperialists. The king of Sardinia with his family is expected to set out this day from Cagliari, and to arrive at Livorno, where the Duke of Chablais is already arrived. Commerce at Livorno is quite brisk again—upwards of 100 sail of shipping loaded with all kinds of merchandize, arrived at that place within the course of a fortnight.

HAGUE, September 21.

After an armistice of 8 days, the British army received a considerable reinforcement of Russians—and the day before yesterday, the 19th inst. the second most obstinate and bloody battle was fought between them and the Gallo Batavians, near Alkmaar, by which, though we gained the advantage, the operations of the armies have not been materially altered. Last night, the 19th, inst. already arrived two expresses sent by Gen. Brune to the French Consul here, and yesterday the victory was announced by displaying the national flag from the observatory and the national hotel. The cannon also on the batteries of the Koc camp were fired. Our loss and that of the French is supposed to consist in 1500 men—the loss of the enemy is more considerable—it consists in 5000 killed, wounded and prisoners: but as on the 17th and 18th a corps of 17,000 Russians were advancing, another battle may daily be expected—it is indeed confidently reported that the last mail has brought news of another attack having been made by the combined English and Russians.

AMSTERDAM, September 21.

This day passed through this city 1000 prisoners of war, who were taken in the last bloody engatement—they are to be transported to Breda. Our loss in this battle is computed to consist in 1400 men. The avenues leading to our city are in the most formidable state of defence, and are commanded by General Hinnisdal, who lately was sent here from France for that purpose. On the 19th about 2 o'clock in the morning, previous to the commencement of the battle, from 5 to 6000 British troops took possession of Hoorn, who however as soon as the issue of the battle was known, evacuated it again.

The village Schoorl was partly burnt by howitzer shells thrown in there, and has suffered considerably. After the engagement was ended, there arrived at Alkmaar 1200 Russian prisoners—they were quartered in the large Church, where they were civilly received and humanely treated by the citizens.

LOWER ELBE, September 25.

On Monday evening we received our Paris letters and papers up to the 16th, but at too late an hour for yesterday's publication. The Sittings of the Council of Five Hundred, on the 14th and 15th, were remarkably stormy, manifesting every symptom of revolutionary disorganization, by vulgar personalities, clenching of fists, and descending even to blows—a conduct not to be expected from the sage legislators of a great nation whose deportment in debate ought ever to breathe a dignified calm, which at once insures respect and obedience to its decrees. The question, whether France is or is not in danger, having been rejected, after great uproar, the Directory sent a message to the Council of Antients on the 15th, stating "that a royal conspiracy redoubles its activity. Corruption, seduction and decoy, extend throughout the Republic. Even in the midst of Paris, Royal proclamations are printed The parricidal presses have been seized, the culpable authors or editors are in the hands of the law; but they must be judged by the common tribunals; yet, should they not be sent to military commissions, for having provoked royalty?" The message was ordered to be printed, and referred to a special commission.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Malaga, to his friend in this city, dated October 6, 1799.

"Yesterday a scene was exhibited here highly pleasing to every real American. The brig Thomas Pinckney, capt. Lawton, of N. York, from Palermo bound here, was captured a few days ago by a French privateer, who was bringing her into this port for condemnation. As soon as it was perceived that she was in possession of the French captain Packwood of the ship Washington, who was lying in the bay, with an alacrity which will ever reflect honor on him, feeling a just indignation for the insulted rights of his country, immediately got his vessel under weigh, and to the no small satisfaction of a concourse of Americans and others, who were anxious spectators of this interesting scene, re-took the prize by boarding her with his boats, the privateer narrowly escaping the same fate by rowing in shore.

"The Spaniards, spurred on by French influence, shewed, or pretended to shew, a great degree of resentment at this SUPPOSED violation of territory, which by the bye they had frequently passed over unnoticed, when committed by the French: and in order to satisfy the eager remonstrances of the enraged Frenchmen, the forts prepared to fire, and the gun boats were ordered out to attack the Washington, and retake her prize—they went out, but after the spirited conduct to which they had been eye-witnesses, they felt very little inclination to hazard an attack, and returned again without attempting any thing.

"Every artifice that the malice of enraged and disappointed Frenchmen could invent, was made up to prejudice the Americans in this place; but happily for us, their influence, although almost unbounded, was effectually thwarted by the spirited exertions of our pro consul, Mr. Edward Bedingfeld, who acts in place of Mr. Michael Morphy, deceased; and the French obtained no other satisfaction than that of being told, that they had done the same on many occasions."

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,

Monday, December 2.

This being the constitutional day for the meeting of Congress, and a sufficient number of members appearing to form a quorum, on motion of Mr. D. Foster, the house proceeded to the choice of a speaker; when Messrs. Rutledge and Livingston, who were appointed tellers, reported, that

Mr. Sedgwick had	42 votes
Mr. Macon,	27
Mr. Dent,	13
Mr. Rutledge,	2
Mr. Sumpter,	1

That the whole number of votes were 85, and the rules of the house requiring a majority of two thirds of the members present to constitute a choice, neither of the above gentlemen were elected.

The house then proceeded to a second trial; when—

Mr. Sedgwick had	44 votes,
Mr. Macon,	38
Mr. Dent,	3
Mr. Rutledge,	1

Whereupon Mr. Sedgwick was declared duly elected, and conducted to the chair accordingly.

Mr. Sedgwick upon taking the chair, addressed the house in the following words:

GENTLEMEN,

Although I am conscious of a deficiency of the talents which are desirable to discharge with usefulness and dignity, the important duties of the high station to which I am raised by the generous regard of the enlightened and virtuous representatives of my country; yet reposing myself on the energy of their candid support, I will not shrink from the attempt.

Accept, I pray you, gentlemen, my grateful acknowledgment of the honor you are pleased to confer; and, with it, an assurance, that no consideration shall seduce me to deviate, in the least degree, from a direct line of impartial integrity.

A message was received from the Senate, informing the house, that a sufficient number of members appearing to form a quorum, they had proceeded to the choice of a President pro tempore, when the hon. Samuel Livermore was elected.

The house proceeded to the choice of a Clerk; when it appeared

Jonathan W. Condy had 47 votes,
John Beckley, 39

Whereupon Mr. Condy was declared by the speaker, to be duly elected.

Ordered, that a message be sent to the Senate, to inform that body of the election of the hon. Theodore Sedgwick, as speaker of the House of Representatives.

On motion of Mr. Macon, the House proceeded to the choice of a Serjeant-at-arms, door-keeper, and assistant door-keeper, when Joseph Wheaton, Thomas Claxton and Thomas Dunn, were unanimously elected.

A Message was received from the Senate, informing the house, that they had passed a resolution, appointing a joint committee to wait on the President of the United States, and inform him, that Congress had met, and were ready to receive any communications he might think proper to make; and in case of concurrence, that Messrs. Read and Bingham were appointed a committee on behalf of the Senate.

The house concurred in the resolution, and Messrs. Marshall, Rutledge and Sewall, were appointed to wait on the President, in conjunction with the committee from the Senate.

The following letter was read by the Speaker:

No 72, Welbeck street, London,
September 20, 1799.

SIR,

I beg leave, through you, to offer to the house of representatives of the United States, impressions of the two prints of the American revolution, which I have lately caused to be published.

The importance of the events, and the illustrious characters of the two great men to whose memory they are particularly devoted, give to these works their best claim to your notice; and the patriotism of my countrymen, I trust, will give them a kinder reception than their intrinsic merit might entitle me to hope.

With great respect,
I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obed't humble serv't,
JNO. TRUMBULL.

The speaker of the house of Representatives of the United States.

On Saturday last the members of St. Andrew's Society of this City held their Anniversary Meeting at Mr. M'Shane's Tavern in Third Street, at which were present the officers of the St. George's, Hibernian, German and Welch Societies. 14. The American fair—may they ever smile on the honest and the brave.

15. The Beggar's Bennison.

16. May care and trouble never sash us, but mirth and joy be wi' us.

SALEM, November 26.

Extract of a letter from Capt. Timothy Wellman, jun. at the Havanna, October 16.

"On my passage from Salem, 150 miles from land, met with a boat with 11 negroes on board in distress, having been six days in the boat, without water or provisions. I took the poor fellows on board, one of whom died soon after. They informed, that they belonged to a privateer from New Providence, which had an engagement with an American vessel, during which the privateer blew up, and 35 men were killed and drowned. I delivered the remaining ten to the Spanish government."

Late accounts from St. Thomas's say that Guadaloupe is blockaded by American and English armed vessels, which entirely cut off their supply of provisions.

Capt. RICHARD DERBY, of the navy, is arrived at Boston in the Juno, from Malaga.

Mr. GEORGE G. LEE, of this town, is appointed Lieutenant in the navy, and goes on board the Essex frigate.

The Boston frigate has been spoken, under the lee of Maraguane, all well.

The ship Friendship, Capt. Williams arrived here on Thursday last from Laguira. Left there, 29th Oct. ship Providence, of Edenton, and schr. Sincerity, Monteith, of Philadelphia.

Ship Maria, Thompson, of Philadelphia, and brig Fly, Barry, of Baltimore, sailed from Laguira the 27th Oct. and on the 4th of November, in the Mona Passage, they were spoken by the Friendship, who kept them company during the night, and parted in the morning. They informed, that they had beat off two Bermudian privateers, which they fell in with two days after their sailing.

Nov. 11, spoke schr. Fame, from Martinique 14 days, bound to Kennebeck, who informed that a fleet of 36 sail of Americans sailed two days before under convoy of a British sloop of war.

President's Speech.

This Day, at 12 o'Clock, the President of the United States, accompanied by the principal Secretaries of Departments, went to the Representatives' Chamber, and addressed the two Houses of Congress, there assembled, in the following Speech.

Gentlemen of the Senate, and
Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

IT is, with peculiar satisfaction, that I meet the Sixth Congress, of the United States of America.

Coming from all parts of the Union, at this critical, and interesting period, the members must be fully possessed, of, the sentiments and wishes of our constituents.

The flattering prospects of abundance, from the labours of the people, by land and by sea; the prosperity of our extended commerce, notwithstanding interruptions occasioned by the belligerent state of a great part of the world; the return of health, industry and trade, to those cities, which have lately been afflicted with disease; and the various and inestimable advantages, civil and religious, which, secured under our happy frame of government, are continued to us, unimpaired: demand of the whole American people, sincere thanks to a benevolent Deity, for the merciful dispensations of his Providence. But while these numerous blessings are recollected, it is a painful duty to advert to the ungrateful return, which has been made for them, by some of the people, in certain Counties of Pennsylvania, where, seduced by the arts and misrepresentations of designing men, they have openly resisted the Law, directing the valuation of houses and land. Such defiance was given to the civil authority as rendered hopeless, all further attempts, by judicial process, to enforce the execution of the law; and it became necessary to direct a military force to be employed, consisting of some Companies of regular troops, volunteers, and militia, by whose zeal and activity, in co-operation with the Judicial Power, Order and Submission were restored, and many of the offenders arrested. Of these, some have been convicted of misdemeanors, and others, charged with various crimes remain to be tried.

To give due effect to the civil administration of Government, and to ensure a just execution of the Laws, a revision and amendment of the Judiciary System is indispensibly necessary. In this extensive country, it cannot but happen, that numerous questions respecting the interpretation of the laws, and the rights and duties of Officers and citizens must arise. On the one hand, the laws should be executed; on the other, individuals should be guarded from oppression: neither of these objects is sufficiently assured, under the present organisation of the judicial department, I therefore earnestly recommend the subject to your serious consideration.

Persevering in the pacific and humane policy, which had been invariably professed, and sincerely pursued by the Executive Authorities of the United States; when indications were made, on the part of the French Republic, of a disposition to accommodate the existing differences between the two Countries, I felt it to be my duty to prepare for meeting their advances, by a nomination of Ministers, upon certain conditions, which the honor of our Country dictated, and which its moderation had given it a right to prescribe. The assurances which were required of the French Government, previous to the departure of our Envoys, have been given, through their Minister of Foreign Relations; and I have directed them to proceed on their mission to Paris. They have full power to conclude a Treaty, subject to the constitutional advice and consent of the Senate. The characters of these gentlemen, are sure pledges to their country, that nothing incompatible with its honor or interest, nothing inconsistent with our obligations of good faith or friendship to any other nation, will be stipulated.

It appearing probable from the information I received, that our Commercial Intercourse, with some ports, in the island of St. Domingo might safely be renewed, I took such steps as seemed to me expedient to ascertain that point. The result being satisfactory, I then, in conformity with the act of Congress on the subject, directed the restraint and prohibition of that intercourse to be discontinued, on terms which were made known by proclamation. Since the renewal of this intercourse, our citizens trading to those ports, with their property have been duly respected, and privateering from those ports has ceased.

In examining the claims of British subjects, by the commissioners at Philadelphia, acting under the sixth article of the treaty of amity, commerce and navigation with Great-Britain, a difference of opinion on points deemed essential in the interpretation of that article, has arisen between the commissioners appointed by the United States and the other members of that board, from which the former have thought it their duty to withdraw. It is sincerely to be regretted, that the execution of an article, produced by a mutual spirit of amity and justice, should have been thus unavoidably interrupted. It is however confidently expected, that the same spirit of amity and the same sense of justice, in which it originated, will lead to satisfactory explanations. In consequence of the obstacles to the progress of the commission in Philadelphia, his Britannic Majesty has directed the commissioners appointed by him under the seventh article of the treaty, relating to British captures of American vessels to withdraw from the board, sitting in London, but with the express declaration of his determination, to fulfill with punctuality and good faith the engagements which his majesty has contracted by his treaty with the United States, and that they will be instructed to resume their functions, whenever the obstacles which impede the progress of the commission at Philadelphia, shall be removed. It being in like manner, my sincere determination, so far as the same depends on me, that with equal punctuality and good faith, the engagements contracted by the United States in their treaties with his Britannic Majesty, shall be fulfilled, I shall immediately instruct our Minister at London to endeavor to obtain the explanations necessary to a just performance of those engagements on the part of the United States. With such dispositions on both sides I cannot entertain a doubt that all difficulties will soon be removed, and that the two boards will then proceed and bring the business committed to them respectively, to a satisfactory conclusion.

The act of Congress relative to the seat of government of the United States, requiring that on the first Monday of December next, it should be transferred from Philadelphia, to the District chosen for its permanent seat; it is proper for me to inform you, that the Commissioners, appointed to provide suitable buildings, for the accommodation of Congress and the President and for the public offices of the government, have made a report of the state of the buildings, designed for these purposes in the city of Washington, from which they conclude, that the removal of the seat of government to that place at the time required, will be practicable and the accommodations satisfactory. Their report will be laid before you.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

I shall direct the estimates of the appropriations, necessary for the service of the ensuing year, together with an account of the revenue and expenditure, to be laid before you. During a period, in which a great portion of the civilized world has been involved in a war, unusually calamitous and destructive, it was not to be expected that the United States could be exempted from extraordinary burthens. Although the period is not arrived, when the measures, adopted to secure our country against foreign attacks, can be renounced, yet it is alike necessary to the honor of the government, and the satisfaction of the community, that an exact economy should be maintained. I invite you Gentlemen to investigate the different branches of the public expenditure—the examination will lead to beneficial retrenchments or produce a conviction of the wisdom of the measures to which the expenditure relates.

Gentlemen of the Senate, and
Gentlemen of the House of Representatives.

At a period, like the present, when momentous changes are occurring, and every hour is preparing new and great events, in the political world—when a spirit of war is prevalent in almost every nation, with whose affairs, the interests of the United States have any connection, unsafe and precarious would be our situation, were we to neglect the means of maintaining our just rights. The result of the mission to France is uncertain; but however it may terminate, a steady perseverance in a system of national defence commensurate with our resources and the situation of our country is an obvious dictate of wisdom. For remotely as we are placed from the belligerent nations, and desirous as we are by doing justice to all to avoid offence to any, nothing short of the power of repelling aggressions will secure to our country a rational prospect of escaping the calamities of war or national degradation. As to myself, it is my anxious desire so to execute the trust reposed in me, as to render the people of the United States prosperous and happy. I rely with entire confidence on your co-operation in objects equally your care, and that our mutual labors will serve to increase and confirm union among our fellow-citizens and an unshaken attachment to our government.

Just Published,

A COMPENDIOUS SYSTEM

Of Practical Surveying and dividing of land; briefly comprized under the following heads, viz.

TWENTY-THREE Geometrical Definitions, eleven Geometrical Positions, exhibiting to view the properties and dependencies of triangles; followed by problems and examples preparatory to Trigonometry, heights and distances. Then fifteen problems and examples neceſſarily previous to calculating a Survey ſucceeded by ſeven ſurveys, the area of the four firſt is found geometrically, and of the whole number by difference of latitude and departure, ſhewing how to take an inacceſſible boundary, find the bearing and diſtance of the cloſing line without running it, alſo the diſtances to an inacceſſible corner from the two adjacent corners, followed by examples of offſets on to winding ſtreams of water, ſhewing how to aſcertain the area without the trouble of meaſuring the windings with chains and inſtruments—a crooked water courſe ſtraitened, and a quantity of land on each ſide found by theſe offſets.

Ten examples of dividing land, with many ſub-diviſions, leading into the moſt critical circumſtances that can occur in practice; an example of Interſections, and an example ſhewing how the bearings of a field may be truly taken where the needle is attracted, altho' the attraction may vary in quantity and denomination at every ſtation; examples ſhewing the method of meaſuring by the chain only. All the rules are clear and explicit. This work contains the tables of difference of latitude and departure and of logarithms.

Orders ſent to Joſeph and James Cruckſhank, Bookſellers, No. 87, High-ſtreet, Philadelphia, Bonſall and Niles, 173, Market Street, Baltimore, or the Subſcriber in Wilmington (Del.) will be duly attended to.

☞ Payments to be made on delivery of each volume.

Subſcribers will have it at their option, either to ſubſcribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the preſent time, or to thoſe only of the Old Congreſs prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are loſt in darkneſs and obſcurity, owing to a careleſsneſs, in the ſucceeding generation, to preſerve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in theſe rude ages, being called off from their domeſtic concerns, to engage in wars and conqueſt. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been tranſmitted to our days? Time, that deſtroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almoſt inеſtimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their aſſiſtance in tranſmitting to poſterity the labours of their anceſtors—founders of the Columbian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will ſhow the ſupport it has already acquired:

"Reſpectfully ſheweth,

"That having, in our reſpective avocations, frequent occaſions to recur to the Journals of Congreſs, we experience inconvenience by the ſcarcity of them: That we underſtand that Richard Folwell, printer, of Philadelphia, has had it in contemplation to print that public record; and that he hath obtained partial countenance from many individuals; but that he has delayed proſecuting the work, in expectation of encouragement from government, that may adequately indemnify him. We, therefore, reſpectfully ſolicit, as the publication is neceſſary to be diſſeminated among public bodies, that Congreſs will, in their wiſdom render him ſuch additional encouragement, to that which he has obtained from private individuals, as to enable him to proceed with the work, ſo that your Memorialiſts may be enabled to purchaſe copies of that record for themſelves.

The Swift-Sure,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

NOW RUNNING BETWEEN

PHILADELPHIA & NEW-YORK,

By the ſhort and pleaſant road of Buſſleton, Newtown, Scotch Plains, Springfield and Newark.

THE excellence of this road, the populouſneſs of the country through which it paſſes, with ſundry other advantages, which render it ſo far preferable to the Old Road through Briſtol, Brunſwiek, &c. long ago ſuggeſted the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough Fare from Philadelphia to New York. During the preſent year, a minute ſurvey of it has been taken, and its ſuperiority over the Old Road, both in winter and ſummer, has been clearly aſcertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the croſſing is performed with great ſafety and in leſs than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is ſeveral miles ſhorter than the old road, but this is amongſt the leaſt of its advantages, becauſe daily experience proves to us, that diſpatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depend on the goodneſs of the road and the levelneſs of the country, and, in theſe reſpects, the New Road is, beyond all compariſon, the beſt. It preſents none of thoſe rocky hills, which render the Old Road ſo fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The ſoil, too, for the greater part, is ſuch as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little duſt in ſummer, which circumſtance, added to the beauty of the country, and a conſiderable proportion of ſhade, muſt always render travelling in the latter ſeaſon peculiarly agreeable.

The Swift Sure ſtarts from PHILADELPHIA, at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, oppoſite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth ſtreet. It goes through Frankford to Buſſleton, where it ſtops to Breakfaſt; from Buſſletown it goes through Newtown to Penny-town to dinner; from Penny-town through Hopewell, Milliſtone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield to Scotch Plains to lodge. The next morning it ſtops at Springfield to breakfaſt, from whence it goes through Newark and arrives at New-York at noon.

From NEW-YORK it ſtarts at 3 o'clock in the afternoon (from Paulus Hook) and arrives at Philadelphia the next evening. For ſeats at New-York, application may be made to Edward Bardin, Old Coffee houſe, to A. Mathieu, corner of Naſſau and John ſtreets, to B. Many, no. 48, Courtlandt, corner of Greenwich ſtreet, and to Michael Little, at his hotel, no. 42, Broad ſtreet.

Fare for paſſengers, Five Dollars.
Way paſſengers 6 Cents per Mile.

Each paſſenger is allowed to take on 14lbs. of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken on by a paſſenger, will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With reſpect to packages ſent on without paſſengers, the proprietors preſume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other lines of ſtages, they think muſt meet with general approbation, They pledge themſelves to make good every package on the following conditions. The perſon who delivers the package at the office ſhall ſee it entered in the ſtage-book, for which entry he ſhall pay 6 cents; he will then ſtate the value of the package, and pay (excluſive of the carriage) one per cent. on the value, as inſurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for inſtance, if he eſtimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent. and if at one hundred dollars, he will pay one dollar inſurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few perſons it is preſumed, will diſlike this regulation; it will however, be optionable with every one to avail himſelf of this ſecurity or not. But the proprietors think it right to ſtate very expliſitly, that they will be reſponſible for the ſafe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an inſurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the diſtribution of the route, the greateſt care has been taken to fix on ſuch places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the paſſengers at the moſt reaſonable rates The ſtages are well equipped furniſhed with fleet and ſteady horſes, and committed to the care of intelligent ſober and obliging drivers. The proprietors themſelves live at the different towns and villages where the ſtages will ſtop, ſo that the conduct of the perſons they employ is continually an object of their attention.—They take care alſo to ſee that the paſſengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no ſort of chicanery or inſolence is practiſed upon them; in ſhort, they have ſpared neither pains nor expence to render the SWIFT-SURE the very beſt line of ſtages in America.

The line has now run nearly a month, during which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New-York. Every paſſenger has found the road to ſurpaſs very far all that has been ſaid of its excellence; and the Proprietors of the Swift Sure are extremely happy to hear the behaviou of their drivers, and the treatment at Taverns ſpoken of with the higheſt ſatisfaction.
